“Winter Wednesdays” are now “Winter Whenevers”:
A chance to learn something new and connect with your community
Registration begins January 4

(Provincetown, Mass.) — Ever want to learn to draw? Or feel like it’s time to get in shape? Maybe you’ve been meaning to learn more about classical music? Or the ins and outs of baking bread? Now’s your chance, with Winter Whenevers. Winter Whenevers is the virtual, 2021 version of Winter Wednesdays. Winter Whenevers enables residents of Provincetown, Truro and Wellfleet to interact online with each other over the off-season and learn something new at the same time.

Winter Whenevers offers two six-week sessions: the first starts Jan. 18 and the second on March 1. The first session offers a selection of 14 different classes — from photography to multi-media storytelling to meditation to singing. The second will offer another 10 classes. All courses will be taught virtually via Zoom and, in another break from Winter Wednesday tradition, they will be offered on varying days and times throughout the week. Registration begins Jan. 4.

“Winter Wednesdays was first created five years ago to offer a way for people to connect with each other during the off-season. This year, Winter Whenevers will be the virtual version of our program, designed in response to the COVID-19 pandemic,” said Shane Landry, Winter Wednesdays’ coordinator. “Our classes will be offered throughout the week. People can take them from the comfort of their own home and still be able to get the sense of community through this shared virtual experience.”

For more information on class offerings, visit www.winterwednesdays.org or the Winter Wednesdays Facebook page. A registration form can be found on the website, www.winterwednesdays.org. For more information, contact Shane Landry at winterwednesdaysCC@gmail.com.

Winter Whenevers are supported by the Provincetown Department of Housing & Economic Development, Provincetown Public Library, Provincetown Health Department, Wellfleet Health & Conservation Department, and in partnership with Provincetown Schools and Truro Central School Committee.
